Dear Senator Fasano and Representative Klarides:

I have lived in this state since 1968. I have watched a prosperous state go down hill due to taxes. Our Town of Stratford has more house on the market because they can not afford to live here. They are leaving homes not paid for and moving out. I am an teacher's aid supporting a household of 3 and I am told I make too much. The more taxes we get the more jobs and people are going to move out. We have had enough. The middle class is not now the lower class. You have no more middle class in Connecticut. Once my child is out of school. I am probably leave because I can not afford to live here anymore. I have cut my spending how out the big paid legislators. WE pay for our health insurance what about them. You could find that. When I retire I have to pay my insurance what about others who get there insurance paid by the state when they retire, pay there insurance like the rest of us. You could find lots of money there and the loop holes that seem to pop up for the rich and not the real tax payers. Thank you for listening.
