Dear Senator Fasano and Representative Klarides:

I have been living in Ct for my entire life. At 53 years old, I really do not relish the idea that I may have to move out of this state because of high taxes. CT residents and businesses pay some of the highest tax rates in the country as it currently stands. Adding any more new taxes will only hurt more middle class families and force more people and business to leave CT, which has a very high rate of attrition already, again, one of the highest in the country. It's time to do a better job at policing and reducing the social welfare programs and stop the wasteful spending of our government.
